

KOHEN/GHIRARDO

October 14th 2010

to whom it may concern

We bought a house in Miami and realized that we had to do some renovation.

Being both of us architects and not having done anything in Miami the first challenge was to get a good contractor.

A friend of ours also architect referred Walid Wahab emphatically after having worked with him.

We immediately realized that his criteria was full of common sense regarding the budget and that he was - which is rare - happy to experiment with new ideas and materials.

He made helpful suggestions that improved our project...
He is very honest and most outstanding he was able to sustain his initial time frame and budget!

The team of people he works with is really harmonic and professionally efficient and each of them knows their part and when to require Mr. Wahab's presence.

The subcontractors he works with are all of very reliable and extremely well chosen.

No doubt if we decide to build something we would hire him again.

Sincerely,

Nora Kohen & Alfredo Ghirardo
